BRITISH SUBMARINE AND CREW ENGULFED

By Associated Press.

Plymouth, England, Jan. 16.—(Bulletin)—The British submarine A-7, which was off here today and the authorities say there is little hope of her crew being saved.

Plymouth, England, January 16.—At five o'clock this afternoon the crew of the British submarine A-7, which stuck on the bottom of Plymouth Sound during maneuvers, were still alive. The parent ship Onyx succeeded in getting into communication with them at that hour. The salvage vessels made speedy efforts to grapple the submarine, whose approximate whereabouts was indicated by bubbles rising to the surface. It is understood that several additional men were undergoing instructions and it is believed that the total number on board was 17.

The A-7 was one of a group of nine boats numbered A-5 to A-13. It was built in 1904 and measured 150 feet in length. Her submarine displacement was 204 tons. Her engines developed an indicated horse-power of 600, giving her a surface speed of 16 knots.

The last signal from the entombed men was heard at 5:15. The vessel lies on the bottom at about 100 feet depth. Officials declared that the crew consists of sixteen.

FLOOD PASSES PEOPLE RETURN

By Associated Press.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 16.—Assured that all danger from the flood which swept down Stoney Creek and Potomac valleys yesterday from the breaking of the dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company at Dobbin, W. Va., had passed, the hundreds of refugees who fled to the hills began to return to their homes today.

Although thousands of persons were imperiled, due to the warnings sent out, no lives were lost. It probably will be several days before anything like an accurate estimate of the property damage can be obtained, but officials here fix it at about $200,000. The greatest damage was to railroad property.

HEAVY DAMAGES

By Associated Press.

Cumberland, Md., January 16.—Latest reports today from small towns between here and Schell, 18 miles from the dam, say the waters are rapidly receding. There is as yet no communication between Schell and the dam and it has not been definitely established whether any lives were lost in that section. The dam is said to be a total loss of $250,000. More than $100,000 worth of logs belonging to the Pulp & Paper Company were lost and the rough estimates place the property damage at $500,000. Numerous stories of heroism are beginning to trickle in.

Cumberland, Md., January 16.—An examination of the wrecked dam today showed that the foundation was intact and that only 125 feet of the superstructure went out. The breast of the dam was 1075 feet long. There were three different breaks. The dam washed away in sections, which lessened the force of the flood.

OFFERS SERVICES

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—The Red Cross today telegraphed to Governor Hatfield of West Virginia, asking whether its services were needed in assisting the sufferers in the flood caused by the breaking of the dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company.

Governor Hatfield replied that no outside assistance would be necessary.

SALAZAR JAILED

By Associated Press.

Sanderson, Texas, January 16.—General Inez Salazar, commander of the Mexican forces which were driven out of Ojinaga, Mexico, by Rebels, was arrested here today.

The arrest of General Salazar aroused much interest in official circles here. Salazar is under indictment for violating the neutrality laws. He was arrested for jumping bail several months ago.

CRANE FALLS AND MEN LEAP FOR LIFE

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 16.—John Evans was killed and four others injured when a self-propelled crane being used in building a county bridge today fell into the Miami river, 50 feet below. Five men were at work on the crane at the time and all leaped for their lives, landing in the water.

TRUST MESSAGE IS NOW COMPLETE

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—President Wilson discussed with the Cabinet today the completed draft of the message he will deliver next week to Congress on the trust question.

He also spent an hour with Representatives Stanley, chairman of the committee which investigated the United States Steel Corporation. Mr. Stanley said yesterday that he concurred in every line of the message.

TO APPROPRIATE FOR STRICKEN JAPS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 16.—President Wilson conferred with Chairman Fitzgerald of the House Appropriation Committee today about an appropriation for relief of Japanese sufferers from earthquake and famine. The President learned that there were precedents for such an appropriation, but will await word from the Emperor of Japan as to whether help is desired.

SENATE CALM

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 16.—The Senate showed a disposition not to consider the Mexican situation today when resolutions to investigate the condition of American citizens in Mexico and declaring the right of such citizens to protection by the Washington government was shelved under a rule by which they cannot be again brought up without formal vote.

WANTS PUBLIC TO OWN THE RAILWAYS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 16.—To instruct the House Commerce Committee to report as early as practicable a bill for the Government Ownership of Railroads of the country, a resolution was introduced today by Representative Crosser, Democrat of Ohio. The resolution sets forth that the railroads have been conducted in a manner prejudicial to the best interests of the country.

CAMPAIGN BULLETINS

This evening's services of the Simultaneous Campaign will be devoted largely to an appeal to young people at the various churches. Several of the churches are reserving sections where the Sunday school classes will be seated with their teachers.

The campaign post cards are proving so popular that several of the local stores have ordered new supplies. These cards can be obtained at the following places, Leland's and Rodecker's news stands, Tuttle's book store, Christopher's drug store, Baldwin's drug store, Brown's drug store, Blackmer and Tanquary's and Murphy's and Girard's five and ten cent stores. Everyone is urged to mail as many as possible to friends and others who may be interested in the meetings.

The Saturday night services at the different churches of the city will be emphasized. It has been decided to hold meetings on Saturday, and use Monday as a rest day, instead of discontinuing the weekly services on Friday evening as had at first been planned.

An illustrated stereopticon lecture on "The Life of Dwight L. Moody" will be a feature at the Saturday night service at the Grace M. E. church instead of the regular sermon. The lecture will be given by Mr. Thomas, and will be profusely pictured with scenes of the remarkable events in Moody's career. No admission will be charged.

At the children's mass meeting, to be held at three o'clock, Saturday afternoon at the Grace M. E. Church, a Sunshine chorus will be formed. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will sing, and the former will give a special children's talk.

At the G. A. R. hall at 2:20 this afternoon, Mr. Boblit will lead a special G. A. R. service. Mr. Boblit has prepared a program that should be of peculiar interest, and a large attendance is expected.

25,000 REBELS GOING TO TAKE MEXICO CITY

By Associated Press.

Chihuahua City, Mexico, January 16.—Definite announcement was made by General Francisco Villa today that he will enter the central and southern states of Mexico with a Rebel army of 15,000 soldiers. He will attempt to join forces with Gen. Carranza at Guadaluajara, where an army of 25,000 or more will begin a march toward Mexico City. "We will strike a blow at the Huerta government, they will be unable to withstand," said General Villa, after he had been in communication by telegram with General Carranza who is in Sinaloa state. General Villa brought here as a result of his victory at Ojinaga, 3000 rifles, 12 cannon and 7 rapid fire guns captured from the Federals.

FLOWERY BED SAYS TITANIC IS HARDENING UNFIT FOR SEA

By Associated Press.

Concord, New Hampshire, Jan. 16.—The matter of admitting Harry K. Thaw to bail will not be decided for several weeks in a rescript filed with the Clerk of the Federal Court today.

Judge Aldrich said there would be no hearing in the matter of bail until the final hearing on the question involved in the extradition and habeas corpus proceedings.

REFUGEES ARE ON MARCH TO FORT

By Associated Press.

Presidio, Texas, January 16.—All the 3300 Mexican Federal soldiers and the 1000 women refugees who sought safety in the United States after the capture of Ojinaga, had left Presidio today for the four-day march to Marfa, from which point they are to be transported by railroad to Fort Bliss, near El Paso. The ragged army was scattered for six or seven miles along the road closely guarded by U. S. cavalrymen.

General Salvadore Mercado, until recently Huerta's military chief in northern Mexico, rode in an automobile with General Francisco Castro. Other Federal generals rode on horses. The common soldiers and the women refugees, many of them carrying children in their arms, made the march afoot. Never had there been seen on the border so picturesque a migration as when the army was set in motion. Small detachments had been drifting along the road for several days, but it was not until today that the main body started.

By Associated Press.

London, England, Jan. 16.—The plea that the Titanic was unseaworthy when she left England in April, 1912, on her disastrous maiden trip to the United States, which cost the lives of over 1,500 people, is to be advanced in a suit for damages brought against the White Star Line, by Thomas Whitley one of the surviving stewards.

The plaintiff sustained a fracture of the right leg in the wreck. It will also be argued there was negligence in the steering of the ill-fated vessel.

The hearing has been fixed for March 1st.

BIG BLAZE

By Associated Press.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 16.—The immense fertilizer plant of the F. S. Royster Guano Company at Fairfield, Md., just south of this city, was swept today by fire. Before the flames were gotten under control damage estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000 had been caused.

TAFT SURE HAD A KICK COMING

By Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 16.—Prof. William Howard Taft of Yale is dissatisfied with the tax levied on his automobile by the city. Recently he received a tax bill showing that assessors had returned his machine as worth $4,500. In a letter to the assessors today, Mr. Taft said that he purchased the machine second-hand for $2,000.

NEW FREIGHT DEPOT TO MAKE RADICAL CHANGE

Brick Building 180 by 40 Feet With Platform Extending from Main to Hinde Street, Is What New C. H. & D. Depot Will Be.

EXCHANGE OF LAND BETWEEN TWO ROADS

C. H. & D. Acquires 100 Foot Strip of Ground North of Present Tracks and Great Changes in Lumber Yards Will be Necessary—Depot to Face Main Street, and Will be Located Between Main and Hinde Streets.

Within a short time some radical changes will be instituted along the C. H. & D. railroad from Hinde street to Sycamore street, in order to make room for the immense new freight depot of the C. H. & D. and B. & O. and the trackage necessary to form suitable freight yards for handling the scores of cars that will daily contribute their portion toward the freight business of the two roads at this point.

Some two years ago negotiations were opened up between the C. H. & D. railroad and the Pennsylvania road for the exchange and purchase of certain grounds in this city that the freight depot project of the C. H. & D. railroad might be carried out.

It was necessary for the C. H. & D. to acquire a considerable strip of ground paralleling the road between Hinde street and Fayette street, immediately north of the tracks, and between the two railroads. At that time the deal was not closed, it is claimed, but negotiations were again reopened sometime ago with the result that the transaction is either closed or virtually closed, and the big changes will be started within a short time unless a sudden change of plans is made.

The plans now almost ready to put into execution call for the construction of an immense freight depot immediately west of, and fronting Main street, just north of the C. H. & D. tracks. The building is to be of brick, 180 feet in length and 40 feet in width. Part of it will be two stories in height, while the freight rooms proper will be one story in height. The freight offices will occupy that portion of the building facing Main street.

A platform extending the full length of the building, and almost to Hinde street, will be constructed, and the driveway to be used will be paved with vitrified brick so that the depot may be easily reached at all times with no mud holes about it.

It will be necessary to make a considerable fill along the tracks between Hinde and Main streets, so that the tracks may be built along the depot building.

Additional trackage will be built from North street to the depot, it is claimed, and one or two tracks will probably cross the streets.

The depot will be so arranged that wagons may drive in at either the Hinde street or Main street end of the depot.

The exchange of property will affect the properties of the two roads from Hinde to Sycamore streets, the Pennsylvania taking over part of the C. H. & D. property, and will necessitate no little change in the lumber yards of the Fayette Lumber Company, and some changes in the Slagle Lumber Company's yards west of Main street. The building occupied by the Craig Manufacturing Company must be moved quite a little distance, and other changes made, which will result in several new lumber sheds being constructed to handle the big stock of lumber in the two yards.

Washington business men will welcome the new order of things, as it is a consummation of what they have long sought, and which has also long been promised by the C. H. & D. railroad. It is stated that the building will be used by both roads, bringing the freight business up to the center of town.

From good authority it is stated that the new depot will be ready for use early in the summer of the present year.

The change will necessitate the expenditure of thousands of dollars, but when completed it will afford shipping facilities adequate for handling the freight business for many years to come, and will give Washington the facilities she has long needed, and which she has long tried to secure.

ONE CHURCH INADEQUATE TO ACCOMMODATE CROWDS

Lare Audiences Throng Each Church Last Night and Are Stirred by Strong Sermons, Song and Prayer Services—Memorial Hall May be Used by One Church—Special Music Better Than Ever.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

To such a tide has the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign reached that the official board of the Christian church last night was called into a hurried session to consider the possibility of securing larger quarters to accommodate the crowd. The attendance at that church was so great last evening that even the introduction of chairs in the aisles was not enough to provide seats for all. Just what will be done in this connection has not yet been definitely decided.

The possibility of securing Memorial Hall for the Christian church services during the remainder of the campaign is being considered, and action in this connection will probably be taken in the near future.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH.

"There are dead men riding around in automobiles in this city today; dead men standing behind the counters of our stores; dead men in our offices and on our farms; dead men in the pews of our churches—spiritually dead. And spiritual death is far more to be dreaded than physical death." This was the ringing declaration of Rev. F. E. Ross at the Simultaneous Evangelistic service at the Grace M. E. church last night.

His subject was "The Call of the Master." "Jesus is here in Washington G. H. today," he said. "The Master is here, and is calling. If He were not here, if He had not been here for all time, there would have been no town now, no civilization. The call of the Master is being given now. It has been ringing through the ages, to all men. You may stop your ears, and turn away, and refuse to hear or heed its call, but none the less truly it is sounding.

"We read of that dramatic incident in Bethany when a stranger came one day into the village and raised the dead man, Lazarus, and we marvel at it, and call the act a miracle. God is working greater miracles even than the raising of Lazarus through the spirit of the Holy Ghost today. He is calling the dead back to life every day, those who have been dead spiritually, those whose lives have sunk so low that men have given them up as hopeless, as beyond mortal aid. There are such men in this city, dead, dead, dead, spiritually. They may not admit it. From the standpoint of society, their lives may be respectable, decent. We even see them come to church on Sunday, and listen respectfully to the sermon. But their ears are deaf and their hearts are cold to the quickening, inner call of the Master. And until they hear, they will never live in the full, spiritual sense that come only to those who have opened their lives to the voice of Galilee.

"We are going to see many of these spiritually dead people brought back to life in this county during this campaign. A woman last week said,

"What is the use of a revival? I don't believe in revivals." Neither do the saloonkeepers, the gamblers, the White Slave promoters. I did not tell her that she was traveling in bad company, but I thought it. Over eighty percent of the adult members of our churches have been brought to Christ through revivals.

"When the great call is heard, it is going to work some amazing transformations. It is going to come to this city with a wonderful force in many cases. I would not be surprised if we heard people shouting Amen on the streets. We haven't enough joy in our religion. That soul-stirring, happy kind of Christian experience seems to have gone out of fashion. People frown nowadays and make wry faces when anyone gives vent to the joy of the gospel in public. But why shouldn't there be joy? When a man is brought from death to life why shouldn't he and his friends be jubilant about it. It is something to shout over."

The largest audience of the week gathered at the Grace M. E. church. The preliminary prayer service was of peculiar appeal. The song service stirred the audience with a vigor which led Mr. Thomas, the leader, to say that seldom in his experience had he heard such whole-hearted response to gospel singing.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

"A man may be all right with his fellows and all wrong with God," declared Dr. Charles Shaw at the Presbyterian church last night, preaching on the subject of "Repentance."

The speaker, choosing as his text, Corinthians 2:7-10, began by defining the difference between true and false repentance, showing its nature and extent, the necessity for true repentance, and making a plain, practical application of the whole subject. Here are some of the pertinent sentences from an unusually pertinent sermon:

"True repentance is being sorry enough to quit.

"You must be willing to purge yourself from the fellowship of unchaste men and unchaste associations if you are going to make yourself right with God.

"The potency and depth of the sinner's sorrow is shown by his attitude toward God. False repentance is in substance nothing more than remorse. Men repent, and do not follow their repentance by any definite action toward a new life.

"We have inherited depraved natures, and more than that, we have lived up to them. We are just as guilty of the death of Christ as the people who lived at the time of His death. We are verily guilty of His death because we assume the same attitude against Him as those who crucified Him. Consequently we are just as guilty as those who have been the hands which drove the nails and thrust the spear.

"Many men think they are pretty good fellows because they judge themselves by a standard of their own. They call themselves moral, and think that being moral is enough. The true standard of salvation is not of your making but of God's making.

"Morality won't save you. The only way of salvation is to get down on your knees and cry, 'God be merciful to me, a sinner!'

Features of the musical program last night were a duet by Mesdames Werter Shoop and Arthur Burgett, and the singing of the Choral club. After the service, members of the club of young men were given an oyster supper by Mr. Gage. The audience at the meeting was so large that it overflowed from the auditorium into the Sunday school room. Seldom has such a spirit of enthusiasm and earnestness been seen at the church.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH. On the subject, "The Law and the Cross," Mr. Brandt at the Baptist church said last night: "In the text Romans 8:3, there are two definite statements, first, the assumption that something needs to be done that is beyond the power of moral law, and second, an assertion that this needed thing God has done through the Cross of His Son.

"The reason for the helplessness of moral law is due to the fall into sin, which involves separation from God, getting permanently out of the reign of righteousness, and putting all men under the curse of God. It is because of these facts that deliverance from sin is beyond moral law only.

"Hence the Divine remedy in the sending of Christ and His atonement. This remedy is of God alone. He has made it a possible basis of reconciliation. God stands as the justifier of whosoever believeth on His Son. And this only is the gate of salvation through which all who are saved must pass."

Miss Sheen was present at the meeting last night, and made the song service one of the most stirring of the week. The crowd was the largest that the church has yet held during the meetings.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

A junior choir of thirty voices, and a senior choir of forty voices were two of the attractions at the Christian church last night. During the evening, there were selections by two quartets, first by a mixed quartet, composed of Mrs. Mary Hyer, Miss Mabel Jones and Messrs. Clifford Irvin and Melwood Hostetter, and then by a male quartet, Messrs. McCracken, Clifford Irvin, Boblit and Hostetter.

Mr. Boblit delivered the sermon of the evening on "The Crucifixion." "The Gospel is the only religion that offers a cure for sin," he said. "All paganism is silent when it comes to a cure for sin. This is made possible because of the crucifixion of the atoning Christ.

"We look upon Christ as He is pictured on the cross. We all bear today the sign of the Cross upon our hearts because of the sin for which Christ suffered and died. Though we revile and curse him, let us remember those prophetic words, 'Every knee shall bow, and every tongue confess that He is the Christ. When Jesus died, he left this will, 'Whosoever will, let him come and take of the water of life freely. He that confesseth me before men, the same shall I confess before my Father in Heaven.'"

SOME PUZZLERS ARE ANSWERED

Question Box Department of Campaign Proves Interesting, and First Of Queries Are Answered.

The Question Box department of the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign is receiving inquiries daily, dealing with personal, troubling points of the Scriptures and Salvation. This service is open to everyone, without obligation. The questions and answers will be published from time to time, without the name of the person submitting them. Here are a few that have been received:

Is there a personal God?

Answer—Most emphatically. The first word of the Lord's Prayer indicates this. God is not merely a god, but MY God. Lo, I am with you always. The promise of eternal companionship and personal communion is the great note of the Christian gospel.

Can a man who has led an evil life until his death bed be truly saved if he accepts Christ in the last moment before the grave?

Answer—Yes. No man is too degraded or submerged in sin to be forgiven if he accepts the redemption offered by atonement of Jesus Christ. On the instant of true acceptance of Jesus Christ as his personal Savior, salvation dawns for the penitent.

Is Hell a place or a condition?

Answer—Undoubtedly a condition, but a condition far more to be dreaded than even the fiery scenes, depicted by the ancients. The word "Hades" is of Greek derivation, corresponding to the Hebrew word "Saeol," or "Bor," meaning the grave, the pit, oblivion, darkness.

Does God remove the penalty of sin when he forgives it?

Answer—The forgiveness of God removes the punishment of sin, so far as that punishment applies to the alienation caused by sin between God and the sinner. That is, the penalty of exclusion from God through eternity is one of the results of His forgiveness.

Better Homes Mean Better Citizens

Perhaps no conference of the season has been of more economic value than the "Third National Housing Conference" in which one hundred and fifty delegates from cities of a large number of American states and four Canadian provinces, convened at our nearby city of Cincinnati.

These delegates included city officials, mayors, health officers and building inspectors; among them architects, city planners, labor unionists, representatives of chambers of commerce, manufacturers, builders, real estate and building and loan men, social workers and representatives of women's organizations.

Jacob Riis and other New Yorkers have introduced us to the New York slums, and the efforts of European cities to improve the dwellings of their wage-earners are well known; but at Cincinnati evidence brought out clearly that neither the old world nor the metropolis has any monopoly on slums.

From small cities of different sections, from growing ones of East and West, from the cities of the Dominion alike came similar tales of districts marred with tumbling, unsanitary houses, of mere shacks, filled to their utmost capacity with a population, degraded by the very character of its abode.

Far from agreeing with the trite saying that "America affords opportunity for all," members of the conference cited children born and reared in stable lofts, whose only home had been a forlorn basement; cited families, with half-grown boys and girls, crowding into a home of a single room; cited dwellings that put an ineffaceable stamp upon the bodies, the minds and the characters of our future citizens.

The vital importance of safeguarding family life was the keynote which sounded incessantly.

The problem of higher standards for dwellings; of health department organization and housing; of co-operative housing; of how to get cheap houses and yet good ones; of housing workers at industrial plants; all of these subjects were discussed, together with the questions: "How shall we remodel and control our old house, how shall we guide and stimulate the building of new houses so that they may best become homes?" and "How shall we keep our cities cities of homes?"

The solution of these questions is yet to be worked out, but the conference pointed the way:—"First, we must enact and enforce housing legislation that will set minimum standards, that will require light and air for every room; sanitary and convenient water supply, protection against fire, such a number of rooms and such an arrangement as will permit of at least a minimum of privacy.

"Second—we must educate the community so that it will demand the enforcement of proper housing regulations; educate the owners as to the significance of bad housing from which they draw revenue; educate the tenants to the proper use of property within their care; and educate women as to the relative importance of essentials and of mere conveniences."

Third, we must stimulate the building of good types of small dwellings."

The National Housing Conference has put into action a live movement along these lines of much needed, practical reform, and there is every reason to believe that its effect will be far reaching.

Shorter Hours For Railroad Employees Conducive to Safety

By CHARLES C. M'CHORD,
Interstate Commerce Commissioner

VIOLATIONS of the law limiting the service of train employees on American railroads to SIXTEEN CONSECUTIVE HOURS go to the very heart of the efficiency and safety of train operation.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND VIOLATIONS OF THE SIXTEEN HOUR LAW WERE REPORTED BY TWO HUNDRED AND SIXTY-NINE RAILROADS DURING THE YEAR, THE ROADS SUBMITTING VARIOUS REASONS WHY SUCH VIOLATIONS WERE NECESSARY. TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE THOUSAND ONE HUNDRED AND ELEVEN MEN, IT WAS POINTED OUT, WERE EMPLOYED IN HANDLING TRAINS DURING THE YEAR, AND THE EXCESS SERVICE PROBABLY WOULD NOT EXCEED ONE INSTANCE TO EACH EMPLOYEE.

As a result of the prosecutions instituted by the commission the instances of excess service reported during the last six months as compared with the corresponding figures for preceding years has shown a marked reduction.

MY BELIEF IS THAT THE CARRIERS INVOLVED WILL CONCEDE TO THE COMMISSION'S ANALYSIS OF THEIR REPORTS SUCH A DEGREE OF ATTENTION AS WILL ENABLE THEM BY APPRISING THEMSELVES OF THE PREVENTABLE CAUSES OF EXCESS SERVICE TO ELIMINATE THE MAJORITY OF INSTANCES IN WHICH EMPLOYEES HERETOFORE HAVE BEEN PERMITTED OR REQUIRED TO REMAIN ON DUTY FOR LONGER PERIODS THAN SIXTEEN CONSECUTIVE HOURS.

Poetry For Today

THE CROWDED COUNTRY.

Give me the crowded country
Instead of the lonely streets,
Where no man is ever a neighbor
To the teeming throng he meets.
Give me the dream-thrugged highway
The company of the lanes,
Peopled with myriad sunbeams,
Populous now with rains.

They call it the lonesome country,
With nothing at all to do,
And nothing at all to happen,
And nothing that's ever new,
But give me the haunted meadows,
Where a thousand beauties lie,
And the little folks of the hillside,
That the bloomy winds blow by.

I can walk the streets that are canyons
And never know black from white;
But the thoroughfares of the byway
Are crowded morning and night
With friends that I'm always meeting,
And notions and thoughts more sweet
Than the rolling millions of humans
Can find in the city street.

There are ideas growing like berries
On every bush in the lane;
And spring with its luminaries
To bring old neighbors again;
And oh, for the flower-sown summer,
And the autumn that talks in tones
Of lights on the hills of beauty
Far-flung from a thousand zones.

You've murder and old libations,
And scandal of tales of sin,
And roaring and lamentations,
And streets of the devil's din;
But over the hills and valleys
The newsboys are crying sun,
And the morning of revelations
In the orchard-lot has begun.

WAR DECLARED ON SEN. PENROSE

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 16.—The statewide conference of the Washington party was brought to a close by oratory, the text of which was the proposed "political elimination" of Senator Penrose and the "social and industrial redemption of Pennsylvania by the Progressives." James A. Garfield of Ohio, Gifford Pinchot, Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota and four Progressive congressmen-at-large urged the 400 Progressive party representatives to go back home and fight the Republican and Democratic parties to the last ditch. Pinchot was hailed as "our next senator."

ASK MILLION TO SAVE HOGS

Senators Pomerene and Kenyon to Demand It of Congress.

GIVE PLEDGE TO OHIO FARMERS

Ten Per Cent of Ohio's Three and a Half Million Hogs Said to Have Succumbed to the Ravages of Cholera Last Year—Series of Resolutions Adopted by the State Agricultural Congress.

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—Demands for $1,000,000 to fight hog cholera in Ohio and the west will be made in congress immediately upon the return of Senators Pomerene of Ohio and Kenyon of Iowa to Washington, they announced after the final session of the state agricultural congress in Memorial hall.

After hearing resolutions of 2,500 farmers gathered in the hall promising co-operation, the senators told members of the state agricultural commission they will bring the bill from committee probably Monday. Senator Pomerene introduced a bill asking $500,000 to combat the disease and Senator Kenyon one seeking $1,000,000. They have agreed to unite on the $1,000,000 proposition.

Senator Pomerene stated that 10 per cent of Ohio's 3,500,000 hogs died of cholera last year, entailing a loss of $3,670,000, and that to help the situation the state legislature had only contributed $20,000.

Besides asking federal aid for the fight on hog cholera, the farmers adopted a score of resolutions on agricultural questions. They want 35 per cent of Ohio's appropriation for the Panama-Pacific exposition to go to encourage the live stock exhibit, 25 per cent for agricultural products and the remainder for general purposes.

They approved legislation proposed by the state school survey commission. They indorsed work being done by Ohio State university college of agriculture and the Wooster experiment station, and asked for the erection of a live stock coliseum on the state fair grounds. Extension of terms of county commissioners to six years, uniform system of dairy inspection and bonding of commission merchants were approved. Opposition was expressed to free passes to state fairs, domination of agricultural extension work by the federal government, and any but Ohio farm products being exhibited at state fairs.

AWAIT DECISION WITH INTEREST

New York, Jan. 16.—Robert Marden Shaw, the young banker who is suing for $50,000 damages from Richard Darling, president of a local safe company, for alleged alienation of the affections of his 18-year-old wife, Katherine Lyall Shaw, tried to induce the United States district attorney's office to proceed against Darling under the Mann white slave act, on the ground that Darling brought Mrs. Shaw from New Jersey to New York for an improper purpose. He was told that the department of justice could not proceed until after the United States supreme court has passed on the Dicks and Caminetti and Johnson cases, since certain federal judges have held that the Mann act applies to a commercial case and for this reason there is conflict of opinion in the lower federal courts. Darling said that the statements concerning him were all lies. He added that he has no affection for Mrs. Shaw.

OPPOSES REPORT

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—Obeying what he declared was the sentiment of his district, and particularly of the coal miners living in it, Senator J. R. Dollison of Hocking county, himself a union labor man, declared that he can not support in the general assembly the run-of-mine measure as embodied in the bill recommended by the Ohio coal mining commission. Senator Dollison is an advocate of the straight mine run system, without restrictions. He said the modifications should be a matter of agreement between the coal operators and the miners.

Lima, O., Jan. 16.—P. J. Komer of Lancaster, O., is under arrest here, charged with swindling Lima business men out of about $45. Komer is accused of pretending to have received word that his mother was dead in St. Marys and then borrowing money to pay his fare to that town.

SEVEN THOUSAND PEOPLE MISSING

Nagasaki, Japan, Jan. 16.—Five thousand of the 12,000 inhabitants of the island of Sakura, where the Sakurashima volcano is located, have been accounted for. Nothing is known as to the fate of the other 7,000. One hundred thousand people who live on the mainland are homeless, and the railroad, 230 miles distant, is blocked with stones and lava. It is reported that some of the stones are as big as houses.

Thirty persons were rescued from a cave near the shore on the island of Sakura, devastated by Sakurashima volcano. Their rescuers, a band of sailors from a Japanese warship, had to dig their way through hot ashes and warm lava six feet deep.

From these survivors came graphic stories of men, women and children overcome in their attempted flight. Many, they said, were struck down by falling volcanic rocks, and hundreds were caught in rushing streams of boiling lava and seen no more.

Many of the people of Kagoshima have returned to find their homes, and are in the city without provisions. They are being cared for by the cruiser squadron. Camps have been set up in the open spaces for the survivors to sleep in.

MAGNATE DEAD

New York, Jan. 16.—Richard Dixie Langford, vice president and secretary of the Southern railway and director of many allied corporations, was killed by gas in the bathroom of his apartment in Brooklyn. He was to have been married tomorrow to Miss Nellie Patterson. The blotter at the police station says: "Apparent suicide." But Dr. Lester D. Volk, the coroner's physician, believes that death was accidental. There is abundant evidence that he was happy in every relation of life.

PRESBYTERIANS

This space was used yesterday to get you acquainted with Dr. Shaw. The advance notices of his coming were very meager and failed to present properly to you the Evangelistic character of the man whom we have been fortunate enough to secure.

Dr. Shaw objected to being advertised in this manner but there were so many who, after hearing his sermons, urged that some method be employed to get the fact up to all Presbyterians in Fayette county that God has sent us a big man to direct the big work we have undertaken. That's why we advertised yesterday.

We had a large attendance last night. The whole congregation was stirred by a wonderfully appealing sermon on "Repentance." But we didn't have all our members present. Nor did we have enough present.

We have have undertaken a tremendous task. "Fayette County for Christ" is our slogan. This is a simultaneous campaign. The Presbyterian Church has pledged itself to God, to Jesus Christ and to all other churches in Fayette county to do its full share in this campaign.

We believe that we are marching up shoulder to shoulder, but we must do more yet. Our work has just begun.

The Church is You

It can't do more than it's members will do. But it can do all that they will to do. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

Be a Strong Link

The earnest support of every Presbyterian is vitally necessary to the success of this campaign.

If you have not yet got into the battle GET IN NOW. Come out to-night and get on the firing line.

Nobody else can do YOUR work. If you don't do it it won't be done.

SKATING ON THE SIDEWALKS ORDERED STOPPED AT ONCE

Chief of Police Moore Issues Decree for Immediate Discontinuance of Go-Cycling and Roller Skating—Instance Where Death Nearly Resulted from the Practice.

Chief of Police D. L. Moore has issued orders that the practice of using the principal sidewalks of the city for roller skating and go-cycling, must be stopped and stopped at once.

The order follows a number of complaints made to Chief Moore, the last complaint coming from an aged citizen who was struck by one of the youngsters while the youngster was speeding down the sidewalk at break-neck speed.

The practice has long been very annoying to a great many citizens, and time after time persons have been struck and narrowly escaped dangerous falls when the skaters and cyclists struck them while speeding recklessly down the sidewalk.

Roller skating and go-cycling are dangerous to the one indulging in the practice, there can be no doubt. The case of Ruth Fisher, living in the southern part of the city, is an example of what is likely to result from roller skating on the sidewalks, and go-cycling is said to be equally as bad.

In the case above mentioned a cerebral hemorrhage was brought on by skating, it is claimed, which produced partial paralysis of one side, and for some little time the girl was in a very critical condition. She has apparently recovered at the present time.

Not only is the excess skating liable to produce injury to the brain and spine by the constant vibration and shock due to rough sidewalks, but there is grave danger of sustaining serious injuries in a fall to the stony sidewalk.

It is the intention of Chief Moore to prevent further misuse of the sidewalk without resorting to arrests, but if the practice is not discontinued at once, the ordinance covering the practice will be enforced and arrests made.

The pallbearers were six great-nephews of the deceased, Messrs. John Lininger and Chas. Lininger, of New Holland; John Hyer of Austin; Lossen Day of Jeffersonville; Clinton Day of Rock Mills and Victor Harper, of near this city.

The three nieces and nephews of the deceased were present during the last hours of the life of their uncle and at the funeral, which marked the passing of the last of their ancestors. They are Miss Julia Hyer, of Johnson's Crossing, Miss Nan Lininger, of New Holland, Mrs. Elias Stookey, of Frankfort, Messrs Alfred Lininger of Danville, Ind., Michael Lininger and George Hyer of New Holland.

Many beautiful floral remembrances were received.

THE POOL ROOMS MUST PAY LICENSE

The new council of Chillicothe has instructed the city solicitor of that city to draw up an ordinance for the purpose of levying a tax on all pool rooms and bowling alleys in Chillicothe, and also all theaters there.

For several years the picture shows of Chillicothe have been compelled to pay a license of $25.

All pawnbrokers and second-hand stores of Chillicothe will hereafter make a daily report to the police, so that any stolen goods may be readily traced if sold to the stores.

CIGAR FACTORY COMING TO TOWN

Joseph Sauer & Son, Well Known Cigar Manufacturers of Delaware and Prospect, Ohio, Will Move Plant Here in April.

Within the next two or three months Washington will, in all probability, have a cigar factory here, and local smokers will be given an opportunity to enjoy real home-made cigars.

Mr. Joseph Sauer & Son, for many years engaged in the manufacture of cigars at Delaware and Prospect, O., will open a factory here, employing several persons, and manufacturing a high grade cigar.

During the memorable flood last spring the warehouse of the firm was submerged and the factory damaged, and since that time Mr. Sauer has been looking about for a location, with the result that he has decided upon Washington as the ideal spot for his factory. He expects to move here about the first of April.

Mr. Sauer is the father of Mr. C. A. Sauer, of Sauer's Bakery, this city.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF JOHN LININGER

The funeral services of the late John Lininger, of this city, which were held Thursday afternoon at Grace M. E. church, were very largely attended by relatives and friends from far and near.

The services were in charge of Rev. F. E. Ross, assisted by Rev. O. L. Ferguson, both of whom paid the highest tributes to the christian character and life work of the deceased, holding up as an example to all men the faithful life just closed, which was filled with devotion to God, love, benevolence, sacrifice and solicitation. Following the services the remains were laid to rest on the family lot in Washington cemetery.

THESE HENS ARE SHOCKING.

Sparks Fly From Their Beaks When They Peck at You.

London.—Raising fowls on electricity has proved a profitable experiment with T. Thorne Baker. Under electrical treatment he declares that chickens can be grown at twice the usual rate with half the usual food.

On the farm where the experiments were conducted an intensive poultry house was electrified. The current was applied for ten minutes every hour during the day. Six chickens only out of a total of 400 died, showing a mortality of only 1.5 per cent. when the usual mortality is 50 per cent during the summer season.

The chickens were ready for market in five weeks as against the usual three months.

The vitality of the treated chickens was remarkable. In stead of running away when one approached the screen, they would peck vigorously at an extended hand, every peck giving a distinct shock to the owner of the hand, but apparently the electricity was not felt by the chickens. Sparks flew from their beaks, but this caused them no concern.

Remove Metal Sewed In Head.

Eau Claire, Wis.—The breechpin of an old Norwegian shotgun was sewed up in the forehead of Alfred Johnson of Minneapolis by a doctor who was called to attend him after he had fired the ancient weapon and had been struck by the flying pin. Johnson's condition did not improve, so he was brought to a hospital here, where the pin was removed. That Johnson will survive is confidently predicted.

NEW NATURAL GAS MAIN IS TO TOUCH FAYETTE MOON DEFENDS SPOILS RIDER

Passes Thorough County Near Madison Mills and Also Touches Williamsport Where Citizens are Paying High Rate for Gas and May Continue to Do So Regardless of Lower Priced Gas Right at Their Door.

Another big gas main, extending from the West Virginia fields to Springfield, is planned by a company in West Virginia, and a party of engineers has been busy surveying a route for the main, which passes through this county near Madison Mills, touches Sedalia, in Madison county, and Williamsport in Pickaway county.

The line which will be from 140 to 150 miles in length in Ohio crosses the Ohio river at Point Pleasant and touches Gallia, Jackson, Vinton, Ross, Pickaway, Fayette, Madison and Clark counties in this state. It will probably be constructed during the coming summer, and will be a ten-inch main, it is claimed. The line will be the third touching Fayette county, two already passing through the northern edge of the county and through Sedalia. It is claimed that Pittsburg capital is back of the movement, and that the line is to furnish Springfield with gas, although it may connect with one of the other big mains in central Ohio.

Williamsport is liable to find itself in a peculiar situation as a result of the new main passing through that locality.

It will be recalled that Williamsport granted a franchise to the Central Contract and Finance company to furnish that town with gas at a steep price, a private gas main being necessary to reach the town.

When the new line comes through it is probable that the gas could be secured at a rate one-half or at least two-thirds of the rate which the consumer now pays, but the franchise of the old company may prevent the saving to the consumers in Williamsport.

Put None But Democrats on Guard Is His Slogan.

BRAVES PRESIDENTIAL VETO

Postmaster General Burleson Stands With President Wilson in Opposition to the Rider in the Postoffice Appropriation Bill Exempting Assistant Postmasters From the Classified List—The Burleson Letter.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Postmaster General Burleson in a letter to Chairman Moon of the house committee on postoffices and postroads declares himself in opposition to the "rider" in the postoffice appropriation bill exempting assistant postmasters from the classified service. He says the proposed exemption would be subversive of the best interests of the postal service.

President Wilson has announced that he would veto the postoffice appropriation bill if it came to him with the spoils system rider attached.

In his letter the postmaster general said: "In the interest of efficient and effective postal service it is vitally necessary that the positions of assistant postmasters be filled by persons especially qualified to discharge the duties thereof and I feel that no persons should hold the position of assistant postmaster whose capacity and efficiency has not been properly and thoroughly tested."

Evidence of the temper of the Democrats in the house on the question was given in the debate on the postoffice appropriation bill.

Representative Moon of Tennessee, who is in charge of the bill, takes the position that the house committee is entirely within its right in inserting in the bill provision for the elimination of the civil service orders applying to assistant postmasters.

Mr. Moon declared that executive objection to the hunt of the spoilsman should not deter the house majority from standing by its principles. He remarked that the president's prerogative of veto was sufficient, perhaps, to neutralize the effect of the expressed wish of a majority, and that if the house was not able to override the president's veto, so much the worse for the house.

Mr. Moon expressed the opinion that "none but Democrats should be put on guard." He considered the last presidential election "a victory not alone for Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall, but for the whole Democratic party."

HENRY SPARKS

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

ONE MAN TERROR OF OHIO.

One man for 13 days once held the whole state of Ohio in terror.

Women buried their money and valuables, men flew to shotguns and squirrel rifles. One worthy matron locked the family horse in the parlor. A squad of valorous men felled trees across a roadway to prevent his advance. Finally after he had been captured, he tunneled out of the Ohio penitentiary and escaped re-capture.

This man was Gen. John H. Morgan, whose raid into Ohio was one of the stirring events Ohio experienced during the Civil War.

Morgan, ex-lieutenant of the Mexican war, a Lexington, Ky., manufacturer, and Confederate cavalry leader in the Civil War, was assigned to break off communication between Union Generals Rosecrans and Burnside with a view to effecting their consolidation in Kentucky. Contrary to orders he conceived the daring plan of crossing Indiana and Ohio—the very heart of Union territory and well garrisoned with Union troops. Only the fact that unexpected high water in the Ohio river cut off his escape, defeated him.

Carrying with him an expert telegrapher, who tapped the wires along the route and obtained the enemy's dispatches while giving false reports of his own movements, he started. Then followed the most strenuous and longest forced marches of the Civil War. From Sommerville, Ind., he marched in 35 hours, a distance of 90 miles. His troopers fell from their horses without awakening. Every hamlet was pillaged for fresh mounts. The raiders seized upon the most useless loot. Many carried bolts of calico on their backs, others chafing dishes, while one, despite the hot weather, carried half a dozen pairs of skates.

Swinging his exhausted men around Cincinnati, Morgan dashed on toward the Ohio. At last, after evading all the troops in Kentucky, hurrying aside the militia of Indiana and outwitting 50,000 Ohio militia, he reached Buflington's island, only to find the enemy guarding the ford. Losing 800 men, he turned and dashed into Ohio. The state was petrified with terror.

After a fight near New Lisbon, he was captured and sent to the penitentiary from which he escaped. He was killed later in a raid in the south.

BITTER ATTACK

Washington, Jan. 16.—An attack upon the foreign policy of the administration was embodied in a speech in the house by Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, Republican. He declared the Bryan treatment of foreign problems to "be inconsistent and disgusting to patriotic Americans who put national honor and support of the government in its international relations upon a higher plane than partisan politics."

DIED LIKE MOTHER

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—Homer Rader, 24, a farmer, living at Horror's Corners, this county, shot himself through the head and died in his front yard. The coroner said that the suicide of the man's mother, Mrs. Louis Rader, several years ago, had a bearing upon Rader's suicide, both from the standpoint of suggestion and of heredity. Rader leaves a widow and a child about a year old.

HAD TWO FAMILIES

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—Judge G. E. Addams in juvenile court put an end to the plan of Otto Schneider to support two families by sending him to the workhouse for a year and imposing a fine of $500. Schneider's wife testified he sent her and their child to Ireland in 1911 and she was gone a year. When she returned she found he had sold their home and was living with another woman.

GREAT POWERS AGAIN RESTIVE

Call Attention to Huerta's Default On Interest Payment.

SECRETARY BRYAN RESPONDS

Declares That the President of the United States Has Nothing to Communicate to Other Governments On the Subject of Mexico—European Governments' Hands Tied For an Indefinite Period.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The United States government has again been invited by Europe to do something positive with regard to the Mexican situation, and the invitation has been declined. This was authoritatively made known here.

The announcement by President Huerta that his government would make the semi-annual interest payment due on the foreign debt of Mexico has been the occasion for the latest representations to the United States. The governments of Great Britain, France and Germany are particularly concerned over this development because practically all of the millions in Mexican securities are held by the citizens of those three countries.

The representations made by the governments of these countries took the form of calling the attention of Secretary of State Bryan to the official announcement of the default by the Huerta government and an inquiry as to whether the United States was going to do anything about it. Mr. Bryan replied in answer to these inquiries that the president had nothing to communicate to other governments on the subject of Mexico.

This answer was delivered by Mr. Bryan, and there the matter rests for the immediate present. At present the United States has the advantage of the European governments most concerned over the Mexican situation. Several months ago President Wilson asked that none of the governments do anything with respect to Mexico until the United States has had an opportunity to lay its policy before them. The governments without exception consented to await an announcement of policy from President Wilson. Consequently their hands are tied for an indefinite period.

NEARS CHIHUAHUA

Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 16.—Pamacho Villa will lose no time in continuing his campaign south against the federals now occupying Torreon. His men on their return here from their successful campaign made in Ojinaga will hardly pause in Chihuahua. Some will not even come through here. Villa learns that the federals are in a state of fright and means to press the fight at once. Villa himself is expected to reach Chihuahua this afternoon. The advance guard of Villa's army from Ojinaga, it is reported, is nearing Chihuahua. Federal officers in Torreon have pitched their camp in the railway yards, where a number of trains are always ready to leave at a moment's notice when the rebels attack.

GETTING IN LINE

New York, Jan. 16.—The Atlantic Coast line started to get itself in line with the corporation policy of the government. Henry Walters, owner of the Atlantic Coast Line Company of Connecticut, the holding company through which the Walters family has controlled the greatest railroad system of the south, announced that the stockholding company was to be put in two. The effect of the change is that the holding company loses control of its subsidiary, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company and the Louisville & Nashville system, which is in turn owned by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company.

UNBELIEVABLE!

New York, Jan. 16.—The Mitchell administration has had the remarkable experience of being petitioned by three city employees to have their salaries cut in half because they didn't have enough to do. The three are John R. Freeman, William H. Burr and Alfred H. Noble, all consulting engineers to the board of water supply. They receive $6,000 a year each.

A Difference in Working Hours.

A man's working day is 8 hours. His body organs must work perfectly 24 hours to keep him fit for 8 hours work. Weak, sore, inactive kidneys can not do it. They must be sound and healthily active all the time. Foley Kidney Pills will make them so. You cannot take them into your system without good results following. Blackmer & Tanquary. Advt.

BIG FIGHT ON

New York, Jan. 16.—The anti-saloon campaign that is to be waged henceforth in New York state will take the form of a fight to extend local option. William H. Anderson, who will have charge of the fight here, said that within a couple of weeks a local option bill will be introduced at Albany.

"All we want now is through local option," said Mr. Anderson, "for we do not aim to go ahead of a normal public sentiment. The question of prohibition comes later. We do not expect to make New York city dry off-hand; but we see no reason why certain sections of it should not be saloonless if they choose—the home sections, for instance."

Purley A. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, arrived in the city and conferred with Mr. Robinson. Mr. Baker said that he expected to see prohibition in New York state in 15 years.

PARIS FOR UNTERMAYER

Washington, Jan. 16.—Reports that Samuel Untermyer of New York is a candidate for the office of ambassador to France excited great interest in political circles here. Secretary Bryan told callers at the department that a diplomatic appointment of importance would be soon announced.

CARE OF TIRES DURING WINTER

While the number of "Everyday in the year motorists" is increasing rapidly, there are still thousands of car owners who put up their cars for the winter and some of these perhaps ask you for the best method of caring for their tires and tubes while their cars are in storage.

If the tires are not given proper care and allowed to carry the weight of a car in a wet, oily garage, when only partially inflated, it is only reasonable to believe that they will not give good service in the spring.

To insure the best results the tires should be removed from the wheels, and the outside casing washed with soap and water to remove all traces of oil. Oil is the natural enemy of rubber, as it softens the tread, thereby diminishing its resistance to abrasion.

The casings should then be looked over carefully and repairs made if needed. It is always a good plan to have tires repaired during the slack season, because repair shops can naturally give casings more attention, and then, too, your car will be ready for service. If the motorist waits until spring, he will usually find that the tire repair shops are crowded with work and he will have to wait his turn.

After removing tires from wheels, they should be laid flat on a shelf in a cool, dark room. It will pay to wrap the tires in cloth or paper, the best results being obtained when the tires are wrapped in the same manner as when received from the manufacturer.

Tubes should be inflated so they stand out round. This prevents creasing. They should be wiped off carefully and laid flat in a cool, dark room with no weight on them.

If casings are allowed to remain on the wheels, the car should be jacked up and only enough air left in the tires to make them stand out round, but we strongly recommend that the tires be removed from the wheels and properly wrapped for storage.

Another big advantage in removing tires during the winter is that this allows of rim inspection and everyone knows that faulty or rusty rims often result in permanent tire injury.

If the above precautions are carried out, the car owner will find his tires in good condition in the spring, and the little time necessary will be well spent.—The Diamond Dealer.

Start Early-Closing Campaign.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—A campaign to close Ohio saloons at 10 o'clock as a step toward prohibition promises to follow the report of the federated churches committee on early closing in Cleveland. The report will be submitted soon to the executive body. This was indicated by Rev. E. R. Wright, secretary of the federated churches.

The style of the new 1913 Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets for medium and stout women lies in their perfect proportion, their low bust, straight waist and small hips.

WITHOUT the great strength which we put into Rengo Belt Reducing corsets, they would not retain their shape. In this feature they surpass all other corsets for wonderful value. The boning is double watch-spring steel, guaranteed not to rust.

Of the several models, each designed for a special purpose, this style is particularly intended for abdominal reduction. Across the reinforced front is an additional belt into which is set strong, elastic webbing.

By this belt the abdomen is reduced and supported. Long trim skirts in the back are held snugly to the figure by an additional band of webbing immediately beneath the back stay. This garment will automatically accommodate itself to any position either sitting or standing and represents the most advanced ideas of figure building.

GREAT AMOUNT OF NATURAL GAS

Natural gas production has become one of the leading industries of the United States, and to this country belongs the credit of making natural gas a commercial product. It is the best of fuels—cleaner, more convenient, and more efficient for almost any purpose than any other fuel.

Were it possible to transport natural gas as coal, petroleum, or other fuels now in use are transported, it would be the leading fuel of the world and its value would probably exceed that of any other commodity. As it is, enormous quantities, too great even to be estimated, and it is with the greatest difficulty that interest can be aroused in the importance of conserving this valuable fuel and in preventing the exhaustion of the fields. Although steps have been taken in some localities to prevent waste, it still goes on.

The utilization of waste gas from the oil wells in different parts of the United States has been an important means of conserving this fuel, and the increasing number of plants erected and being erected for the extraction of gasoline from this "casing head gas" was one of the most important features of the natural gas industry in the year 1912.

The year was one of greatest prosperity to the natural gas producer and a record-breaker for output, according to B. Hill of the United States Geological Survey.

The total estimated consumption of natural gas in the United States in 1912 was 562,203,452,000 cubic feet, valued at $84,563,957, an average price of 15.04 cents a thousand cubic feet, compared with 512,993,021,000 cubic feet, valued at $74,621,534, an average price of 14.55 cents, in 1911.

The number of domestic consumers supplied with gas in the United States in 1912 was 1,621,557 and the value of gas consumed for domestic purposes amounted to $50,960,883, while the number of individual consumers was 15,936 and the value of gas consumed for industrial purposes was $33,603,074. On the assumption that 28,000 cubic feet of gas equals in heating power one ton of coal, the fuel displaced by gas consumed in 1912 was equivalent to approximately 20,000,000 tons of coal.

In the latter part of 1911 and throughout 1912 the price of petroleum continued to advance. This stimulus of higher prices made drilling more active in every district and resulted in the discovery of some new oil and gas pools, as well as in the extension of older fields.

So long as present prices prevail the search for oil and gas will continue, and it is probable that the year 1913 will show still greater results than 1912.

A MATTER OF EVOLUTION.

The eugenic faddists held full sway at the Race Betterment Conference at Battle Creek and if the fit of the human race are to be judged by the utterances of some of the more enthusiastic reformers, a number of successful useful citizens should never have been born. The human equation is something which the average advocate of eugenics fails to take into consideration and is a result his doctrine fails.

Some of the strongest leaders of mankind have sprung from weak-minded parents. Presidents have been born of parents and in surroundings at which the eugenist would hold up his hands in horror. Artists, poets, statesmen and musicians have been born in the slums and thousands of our useful citizens today have sprung from stock which the average faddist would have condemned.

It is time to bring the subject of eugenics down to earth. It serves a useful purpose in teaching the individual to respect his health and to care for his body. It points out the dangers of marriage with defectives and persons tainted by certain diseases. It lays stress upon the importance of ance of regarding something besides money and social position in considering a man's eligibility for marriage and in this way protects the race.

Yet it is folly to attempt to regulate the immediate relations of the human race by law. It is impossible to mould human beings in the same cast and it is certain that the betterment of the human race must come by evolution instead of by sudden turning over of old laws and customs. The chief argument against eugenics is man himself and while this science may serve to help in the betterment of the race, it is only a cog in the great wheel of evolution, a means to an end and not the panacea for all human ills. —Springfield Sun.

SAVING THE SOIL

In traveling through some of the trucking sections of northern Ohio, a practice is noted that might well be more general than it is. In a locality where onions and celery were grown extensively, some of the truckers, late in December, were plowing their ground for next year's crop. They were turning under a good stand of rye that had been sown after the harvesting of the onion crop. This rye was of about three months standing and made a heavy growth which covered the ground with a thick mat of green vegetation. The roots had gone down deeper than the plow was running, and the entire furrow that was turned up was filled everywhere with a thick fibrous mass of roots.

Two of the best results that follow such a treatment of soil are these: The decayed rye plant will go far toward keeping up the humus content of the soil and the great number of roots that everywhere permeate the soil will, after their decay, have left that ground porous and easy to work. A good ideal to strive toward is always to have something growing on the ground. It not only serves the purpose mentioned above, but on hilly or rolling land it prevents excessive erosion which carries off valuable soil and plant food, and minimizes those ugly washes and gullies that are the bane of hillside farming.

We sometimes hear of people who are unspeakably happy, but they must be deaf mutes.
